BRIEF ABSTRACT OF LETTER

NOTES AND ORDERS.

Modification of the definition of "Village" in the Village Panchayet Regulation.

Under Section 3 (10) of the Village Panchayet Regulation, the term "Village" is defined to mean a local area recognised by Government as a village for purposes of collecting the land revenue and includes a ~~dakle~~ village and an alienated village, but does not include a local area which is constituted as a municipality or, a village which is under the proviso to sub section (2) of section 1 excluded from the operation of this Regulation. The revenue village may not always ^{be} the most convenient unit for purposes of Panchayet Administration and it is considered necessary in some cases, e.g., the Bhadravati Iron Works and the Mandya Sugar Factory to constitute the area as distinguished from the entire revenue village into a separate village Panchayet. It is therefore proposed to alter ^{the} definition of the term "Village" reserving power to Government to define the village boundaries for the ~~pur~~poses of Village Panchayet Regulation. The opinion of the Committee is invited on this proposal.

3 In connection with the question of revision of certain areas of Village Panchayat taxes as recommended by the Agricultural Relief Committee, the Rev. Com. has stated that the existing arrangement for the collection of the taxes in Panchayats is not satisfactory and that the work may be entrusted to Revenue Offices, by amending the Village Panchayat Regn for this purpose.

4 The amendment of the definition of the term 'village' agreed to by the Standing Committee may, perhaps, be taken up with the changes, namely, to be made in the Regulation in accordance with the above suggestion of the Rev. Com.

NOTES—First Sheet

31 The object in view seems to be to enable Govt. to establish panchayats for portions of a revenue village. Under S. 4 of the V. P. Regn. the D. C. shall establish a Panchayat for every village or group of villages. S. 3(10) defines a "village" as the area recognised by Govt. as a village for purposes of collecting land revenue.

32 If a panchayat is to be established for a portion of the revenue village the definition will have to be amended as in the draft Bill. Jb. 2

36 To enable the Government to constitute panchayats over portions of a village or ~~any~~ villages, the draft amendment proposed to section 3(10) will be sufficient. The wording is slightly altered and the definition of village after the amendment will run as follows:

"Village" means a local area recognised by the Government as a village for the purpose of collecting the land revenue or any part of such area which may be declared by the Government by notification in the Official Gazette as a village for the purpose of this Regulation and includes a dakte village and an alienated village but does not include a local area which is constituted as a municipality or a village which is under the proviso to sub-section (2) of section (1) excluded from the operation of this Regulation".

(The underlined portion is the amendment proposed.)

37 The effect of this will be that when a portion of a village is declared a separate village for constituting a Panchayat, the provisions of the Village Panchayat Regulation will apply to such separated

Amendment to the V.P. Regulation portion also. The Government will not be in a position to make any special rules in respect of the constitution of panchayats, their duties and powers, control, etc. But this amendment will not be of much use for meeting the needs of the case under consideration, namely, to make suitable provision for the special administration of local areas such as the Mandya-Sugar-Factory and the Bhadravati Iron Works in which the Government may desire to have greater control in respect of sanitation, etc., than allowed under the provisions of the Village Panchayat Regulation. It is also possible that the Government may want to give a special constitution to the Panchayat ^{in such areas} in respect of the Chairman and its members ~~in these areas~~. After all, there might not arise cases in which it is necessary to split a village into two panchayats for the purpose of local administration ^{under the V.P. Regulation}. If a village is so prosperous as to be too big for one panchayat, it might be too big for revenue administration ~~as one village~~ and it may be split up as two villages for revenue administration and each of them will then become a village under the Village Panchayat Regulation. ~~By this method, the purpose for which the above amendment is proposed to the definition of village may be gained.~~ The main object seems to be to enable the Government to constitute special panchayats with suitable powers for special areas which may be parts of a village. To provide for this purpose, a provision on the lines of section section 102 of the District Boards Regulation would be necessary. Its operation would be as follows:

The Government by notification would exclude a particular area from all or any of the provisions of the Village Panchayat Regulation under sub-section (1). Under sub-section (2) the Government would be enabled to frame rules for the local administration of this area. The Government in framing rules may adopt the provisions of the Village Panchayat Regulation or make suitable changes therein as may be desired.

Subject.—

Proposal to amend the Mysore Village Panchayet Regulation.

Under Section 3(10) of the Village Panchayet Regulation, the term "village" is defined to mean a local area recognised by the Government to be a village for purposes of collecting the land revenue. A revenue village comprises not only the residential areas of the village and its hamlets but all the agricultural and communal lands within its boundaries. Such a unit is not always to be the most convenient for purposes of Panchayet administration. It may sometimes be necessary to constitute portions of one or more revenue village into a Panchayet area. Such an arrangement would be suitable, for instance, in cases where industrial colonies have sprung up in the neighbourhood of factories, such as, the Mandya Sugar Factory and the Bhadravati Iron and Steel Works. It is therefore proposed to add a section to the Village Panchayet Regulation on the lines of Section 102 of the District Boards' Regulation so as to enable the Government to exclude any particular area in a village from the operation of the provisions of the Village Panchayet Regulation and placing such excluded area under the jurisdiction of a special Panchayet with specified powers.

The Dewan and the First Member of Council are agreeable to the proposal and I solicit His Highness' gracious sanction to the ^Xgeneral principles of the ^Xbill being placed before the Representative Assembly at the ensuing Dasara session. In view of the urgency of the matter this has been provisionally included in the agenda for the meeting.

Mr. V. V. IYER brought to notice that before the springing up of industrial concerns in rural areas, the villagers ^{had been} ~~were~~ enjoying good enough sanitation given by nature, free from congestion. But after the development of the area into industrial centres, the sanitation of the area was affected prejudicially owing to the increase in population. Apart from that handicap, the higher wages paid by the industrial concerns began to attract the raiyats and that ~~xxxx~~ resulted in prejudicing the agricultural operations in the area. Thus the advent of the industrial concerns was responsible for affecting the even tenor of village life. The bill also sought to separate the survey numbers of the village comprised in ^{the} industrial colony from the jurisdiction of the existing village panchayats and constituting the former into a special panchayat. Thus while the people in the newly constituted panchayat would be enjoying all the civic amenities specially created therein, while those in the other part of the same village would have to forgo all those amenities. With a view to remove such a disability, he suggested that the entire village might be taken within the jurisdiction of the special panchayat of ^{the industrial colony} ~~the industrial colony~~, especially as the ~~in-~~ ^{xxx} ~~xxxxxxx/xxxxxxx~~ ^{later} ~~industrial centres~~ owed a duty to the villagers ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ to make an ~~in that area for the change~~ ^{ds} for having brought about a change in rural ~~xxxx~~ economy in that area.

Mr. T. MADIAH GONDA pointed out that there were only two industrial centres worth the name in the mofussil, viz., the Bhadravati Iron Works and the Mandya Sugar Factory. To his knowledge there was no industrial concern in any village panchayat area. That being so, he did not know how this question would affect the Village Panchayat Regulation. If at all, it might affect the Municipal Regulation. If, however, it did affect the Village Panchayat Regulation, he thought it would not be ^{equitable} right to constitute a special panchayat for the exclusive benefit of the colony and thus deprive the other portions of the ^{existing} panchayat area of the benefits of the civic amenities created in the colony. He was very keen that every facility should be created to all the villagers in the locality to march alongside of the colonists in civic matters, and on that ground he opposed the bill as it aimed at splitting up the ^{existing} jurisdiction.

Mr. BAGAWANE DEVA GONDA pointed out that the position of the industrial colonies was similar to that of the Coffee Plantations. When the planting area was proposed to be brought under the jurisdiction of the ^{neighbouring} village panchayat, the European planters agreed to pay the taxes under the Regulation but stipulated that the panchayat concerned should not interfere in plantation matters. He therefore thought that, apart from the question of jurisdiction, the industrial colonists might agree to pay the taxes due to the existing village panchayats in view of the fact that the village panchayat movement was in its infancy and its resources deserved to be augmented in every possible way. In case, however, it was proposed to exempt the colonists from payment of the village panchayat taxes, he was afraid that^a similar concession would have to be shown to the coffee planters as well.

THE SECOND MEMBER (Rajamantrapravina N. MADHAVA RAU) observed that the members who opposed the bill did not seem to have understood the principles of the measure. Under the existing Regulation, whatever the rural area, it must belong either to a municipality or to a village panchayat and there could be no area which did not come under either of the two. When industrial colonies sprang up in the neighbourhood of factories as in Mandya and Bhadravati, half the area of the colony might be in one village panchayat and the other half in some other ~~xxx~~ panchayat. At times portions of three or four villages might be comprised within the boundary of the colony. In such cases, it would not be possible to apply the Village Panchayat Regulation in its entirety. Because, the residence of the people might be in one direction, the agricultural lands might be in another direction and there might also be some bechrock villages and so on. Thus it had become necessary to constitute the area into a special panchayat with specified powers and there was also need for special control of those particular areas. And power was sought to be taken by Government in that behalf under the bill.

Referring to the objects⁶⁰ raised by Mr. V.V. Iyer, Mr. MADHAVA RAU observed that it was not the intention of Government to separate the villagers from the colony and keep them aloof. ~~It~~ On the other hand, there was nothing to to prevent the surrounding villagers from availing themselves of the amenities ~~made~~ created in the industrial colony. The village might be taken over in part or if circumstances required it, the entire village might be brought within the boundary of the colony.

So far as the factories situated within the municipal limits were concerned, the speaker explained ~~pointed-out~~ that an enabling provision already existed in the Municipal Regulation for administering the local affairs considering the special needs of the locality, and the intention of the bill was to ~~vest~~ similar power in Government in respect of village panchayats.

Mr. S. C. MALLAIYA suggested that if the idea was to enable the Government to take power to introduce a special Regulation for the purpose of administering those particular areas, and if it was also the intention of the Government not to neglect the remaining portion of the village, the entire village might be taken over to the jurisdiction of the special panchayat.

Mr. N. MADHAVA RAU explained that if the entire area was taken, the unit might become unwieldy and it had to be kept as a compact area for concentrated effort. Another reason why ~~it~~ ^{the colony} could not be brought under the existing village panchayat scheme was that a panchayat had to be not less than a single revenue village. Sometimes the colony might be ~~comprised within the boundaries of~~ come to be located at a place where the boundaries of two or three villages met. In such a case it would be impossible to take in all the villages. Hence it had to be treated as a separate unit under a special legislation. Moreover, the conditions would not be uniform. The taxation in the ordinary village panchayats might be lower than that in the special area. Hence it might not be advantageous for a revenue village to be merged in the special panchayat as suggested.

Mr. L. VEMA REDDY strongly supported the bill and said that it would not affect the existing rights of village panchayats in any way. He had no doubt that the ~~surrounding~~ villages surrounding the industrial colony had everything by way of civic amenities to gain/and nothing to lose. Under the Municipal Regulation, the Government had power to fix the municipal boundary and to change it from time to time, and enquired whether such a power could not be exercised in the case of a village panchayat.

The SECOND MEMBER explained that there was no provision in the Village Panchayat Regulation to separate an area from the village panchayat and that was why the bill had to be brought up.

He assured the house that simply because a proprietor of a factory improved his unit area, it would not affect prejudicially the surrounding villages. On the other hand, the labourers in the the vicinity would benefit by improving their earning capacity and in other ways it would tend to the economic improvement of the village, without in any way prejudicing the vested interests in the villages.

For these reasons, he commended the measure for the acceptance of the House.

Rao Sahib M. RAMASWAMY, speaking in support of the bill, said that when such industrial colonies were formed, the villagers in the neighbourhood would share all the civic amenities such as water-supply, ^{medical aid and} ~~drinking~~ sanitation, lighting, schools, etc., They could enjoy all the necessities of life at concessions rates and ^{so} ~~/e/~~ specially in the matter of educating their children, as the colonists were not going to obstruct those children from joining the schools.

The general principles of the bill were then put to vote and passed.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF THE BILL FURTHER TO AMEND THE MYSORE VILLAGE PANCHAYET REGULATION.

Under Section 3(10) of the Village Panchayet Regulation, the term "village" is defined to mean a local area recognised by the Government to be a village for purposes of collecting the land revenue. A revenue village comprises not only the residential areas of the village and its hamlets but all the agricultural and ^{communal} ~~commercial~~ lands within its boundaries. Such a unit is not always found to be the most convenient for purposes of Panchayet administration. It may sometimes be necessary to constitute portions of one or more revenue village into a Panchayet area. Such an arrangement would be suitable, for instance, in cases where industrial colonies have sprung up in the neighbourhood of factories, such as, the Mandy Sugar Factory and the Bhadravati Iron and Steel Works. It is therefore proposed to add a section to the Village Panchayet Regulation on the lines of Section 102 of the District Boards' Regulation so as to enable the Government to exclude any particular area in a village from the operations of the provisions of the Village Panchayet Regulation and ^{thereby} ~~constitute~~ such excluded area ~~into a~~ ^{special} Panchayet with ^{specific} prescribed powers.

under the provisions of

The Mysore Village Panchayet Regulation is proposed to be amended accordingly.

Draft

Bill further to amend the Mysore Village Panchayat Regulation, 1926.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Mysore Village Panchayat Regulation, 1926, It is hereby enacted as follows:-

Addition of section 58 A.

After Section 58^A the following shall be added as Section 58 A:-

"(1) If the circumstances of any village or part of a village are in the opinion of the Government such that all or any of the provisions of this Regulation are unsuited thereto, the Government may by notification in the Official Gazette exempt the village or part of the village from the operation of those provisions and thereupon those provisions shall not apply to the exempted village or part of the village ~~and~~ until again applied thereto by a subsequent notification of the Government.

" (2). While any notification under the former part of subsection (1) of this section is in force, the Government may make rules to provide for any matter dealt with by the provisions of this Regulation for the ^{exempted} areas to which the notification applies. Such rules when published in the Official Gazette shall have the force of law."

Statement of Objects and Reasons.

Under Section 3(10) of the Village Panchayat Regulation, the term " Village " is defined to mean a local area recognised by the Government to be a village for the purposes of collecting the land revenue. A revenue village may not always be a most convenient unit for purposes of Panchayat administration. It may be necessary to constitute a portion of a village as a special Panchayat with special powers as in cases where an industrial area has sprung up in a village, such as the Mandya Sugar Factory or the Bhadravati Iron Works. It is therefore proposed by this bill to add a section to the Village Panchayat Regulation on the lines of ^{Section 102 of} the District Boards Regulation to enable the Government to exclude any particular area in a village from the operation of the provisions of the Village Panchayat Regulation, and constitute such excluded area into a special Panchayat with special powers.
